WHERE DO YOU CURRENTLY SIT?

By shifting your mindset and applying new ways of thinking and tools we elevate many executives from below the line (in the above model) to above the line where they become leaders of teams and leaders of leaders.

I have outlined the journey and the impact that is made at each stage and the behaviours and choices that go along with each one to be a limitless leader.

To go from a 'manager' mindset to a 'leader' mindset takes skill, will and energy and more than just drive, ambition and some smarts. It all starts with self leadership and making a choice to lead. To create Limitless Leadership, leadership that never ends or stops growing and evolving, we need to look on the inside first and make a decision to commit, learn, unlearn and learn again.

Be Limitless!

WHO IS THIS FOR?

- Current leaders who want to empower, motivate and foster commitment not compliance
- Emerging leaders and executives transitioning from management to leadership
- Time poor, skill-stretched leaders who want to do more
- Leaders of self and those that influence and lead decisions
- Leaders that want to create future leaders
- Business owners managing a team

RENÉE GIARRUSSO

Renée is an amazing woman. Inspirational. She explains leadership strategies in a way that is easy to understand and suggestions of how to alter things leading to personal improvements. I particularly loved hearing about what "lights me up". Every day I have asked myself, "have I done something today that lights me up"? If I haven't, I've tried to do something, even if it is only little. My energy levels are up - thanks Renée. I am looking forward to our journey together and love that you're in my corner!

Natasha Groves, Key Account Manager, Orora

I recently completed a leadership course which Renée facilitated. She was able to keep a diverse collection of managers completely engaged with the material while simultaneously creating an environment where everybody felt comfortable to share their own experiences with the group. This was hands down one of the most enjoyable and informative workshops I have had the pleasure of attending.

Steven Taylor, Financial Controller at William Adams

Renée is a highly energetic and engaging presenter, facilitator and coach who demonstrates passion for her subject matter. She will work in your business to embed tools and practices to build capability and strengthen organisational performance. Renée's style is polished but down to earth, she is adaptable and highly organised. I would thoroughly recommend Renee to work with and add value to your business.

Karen Littlepage, CPHR, Head of People & Culture at GS1 Australia

Renée Giarrusso is an accomplished speaker, author, facilitator, trainer and coach who works with leaders, organisations and teams to level up in areas such as communication, leadership and motivational mapping.
